The Month of Ramadan has long ago been established as the month of fasting for Muslims. But from where does the authority and instructions for its observance come? How can we know with certainty the correct performance and acceptability with Allah the Sublime?

Fasting is a great act of worship for the Muslim which he performs by neglecting his desires to please his Lord and hopes for His Reward. It just common sense that the one who would not give up desired things except that it would be for something more desirable. In this case the pleasure of Allah is the most sought after desire.

Many excellently presented videos explain the benefits, reasons, advice on how we should prepare for Ramadan. The Month of Ramadan is a time to reap the rewards of Allah (SWT) and with www. Fast Ramadan .com its brilliant and easy to encourage others to do good and sharing the blessings Inshallah.

The Prophet (may Allah send His blessing and peace upon him) said, "He who gives food for a fasting person to break his fast, he will receive the same reward as him, without nothing being reduced from the fasting person's reward."

I want to plan and organize my Ramadan so I can do many acts of charity and worship to Allah???

assalamou alaikoum sisters my name is houleida and am amuslim from algeria i live in southampton and i would like to help the muslim community here and participete in the building of the society in order to give a good image about islam i have an idea to apply it in ramadhan inchaallah what doyou think if we invite some christian student or non muslim in general invite them to fast one day and those who participate should give 1 pound in order to give this money to poor people and by this we can give agood example about islam am waiting for the answer
